

Press Release

The traffic lights have already been on "Stop" for a long time. However, virtually no-one is noticing this. People are busy with their own concerns, blind or walking around wearing blindfolds.

A group of tourists are watching the happenings passively from a distance. A small child can also be seen on the edge of the picture, pointing with his hand to the dove of peace which is flying around the globe of "Planet Hollywood" far on the other side of the picture. The child is saying, "But look, why do we have war and destroy our planet? Stop, look around and do something!"

The "Stop" picture, painted in oil, by Swiss artist Andreas Tschannen, can be seen at the ArtExpo in New York.

Andreas Tschannen, known for his artistic perfection, has truly created a masterpiece with this picture, which casts its spell over the spectator

More from Andreas Tschannen: www.andreas-tschannen.com

ArtExpo New York - Jacob Javits Convention Center
Gallery Artodrome/International KG Gallery Booth #1435
February 28 - March 3 / 2008

